Festival of Arts 'Tivoli Chiama!': A summer pearl

GIANFRANCO NITTI | 27 JUNE 2017

Villa d'Este, one of the venues for this year's Tivoli Chiama events

ROME- Following the great success of the previous editions, the third edition of "Tivoli Call! - The Festival of the Arts ", will get underway Friday, before finishing on July 29. The festival is a cultural event for the appreciation of historical-artistic and landscaping heritage through live performances, successfully launched back in 2015.

This edition hosts performances in the suggestive and historic locations of Villa Adriana, Villa d'Este, both Unesco sites, and other magical places as the Sanctuary of Ercole Vincitore.

The program has been introduced in Rome at the Ministry of Culture with the presence of famous actress Franca Valeri, promoter of the festival.

The Festival will be opened on Friday with Video Mapping of Visual Artist Alessandra Franco on Rocca Pia "De Siderum" on the theme "Europa" to continue with the concert of the Orchestra at the Amphitheater of Bleso.

The Festival will continue with a performance of Michele Placido's music and poetry on Sunday at Villa Adriana titled "Suite for Voice" accompanied by the music of Marco Zurzolo Quartet.

On July 8, Master Giovanni Allevi is in concert at the Sanctuary of Ercole Vincitore.

The curtain call of the Festival on July 29 will feature Sonics acrobatic dance performance "Meraviglia", which will be held in Piazza Garibaldi, with the festival concluding with a great party in the square.
